RE: 10/681,551 (Electronic timing system of automobile engine)

Hello:

I received the request of correction to my patent application above. I do not quite understand what is really wrong. In this case, I would request an additional period of time and also please advise in more details what/which drawings are not correct according to regulation. I really appreciate.

Also, could you please update my mailing address as above? Thank you.

Best regards,
